

FLEX:TRIAL™

FLEX:TRIAL extends the hearing test with a real-world assessment that allows your clients to try hearing instruments right away in the places they live, work and play. It also provides an efficient bridge solution for existing wearers who require a repair to their current hearing instruments.

Focus on care, not the sale

We believe you'll have greater long-term success with your clients when you're free to focus on providing the very best care, instead of making a sale. FLEX:TRIAL takes the pressure out of the appointment to help your clients feel more empowered in their decision-making. They have the opportunity to experience the benefits of your recommended hearing solution first-hand before making a financial commitment.

A performance tracking feature for optimization and personalization from the very first fit:

- Clients instantly experience the benefits of amplification prior to purchase with no risk or obligation
- Clients know what to expect from their hearing solutions, making them less likely to return them
- You are empowered to offer a unique trial experience without keeping a large inventory on-hand
- Your counseling is enhanced when you combine FLEX:TRIAL and Log It All to track the listening environments clients spend time in during their trial

You experience ...

- Decreased return rates
- The flexibility to recommend different technology levels using our open platform
- The ability to set a specific time for the duration of the trial period

Clients experience ...

- Less buyer's remorse
- Increased satisfaction and peace of mind with their purchase
- The ability to try your recommended technology level in their everyday lives
